

EASY TO USE COPYRIGHT FRIENDLY RESOURCES

These resources are free, searchable, and offer a wide selection of media with easy to use citations. Help your students understand that protecting the intellectual property rights of others is part of being an ethical global citizen.

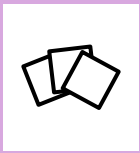

UNSPLASH

Unsplash.com contains thousands of beautiful and evocative high-resolution images, no citation needed, but easy copy and paste attribution is appreciated; they also have several edu collections. No adult content (April 2020).

PIXABAY

Pixabay.com has over 1.7 million high-quality images, no citation needed, but easy copy and paste attribution is appreciated. Safe Search link prevents seeing adult content. Videos and music are also available. Sponsored images show at the top of results pages.

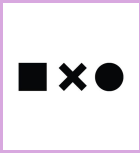

PHOTOS FOR CLASS

Photosforclass.com is curated by teachers and appropriate even for young students. Automatic citation appears on each downloaded image.

WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

Wikimedia Commons (commons.wikimedia.org) contains over 60 million freely usable (public domain and freely-licensed) media files, including images, sound, and video clips.

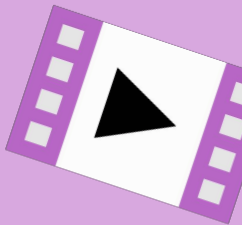

NOUN PROJECT

Nounproject.org is a collection of over 2 million icons. Free accounts can download icons in black only and must cite the creator. Paid accounts can download in color & don't need to cite. Teacher discount available.

YOUTUBE AUDIO LIBRARY

Youtube.com/audiolibrary allows you to browse and download music & sound effects that can be filtered by instrument, mood, license, and more. Some require attribution, some do not. All are free.

FILMMUSIC

Filmmusic.io offers free downloads of music clips with no account necessary. Attribution is required. Search by genre, length, mood, topic, artist, and keyword.

BENSOUND

Bensound.com has music searchable by genre. Citation is required and no derivative uses are permitted. Music may be cut, edited for length, or voiceover added, but may not be used in remixes.

